Frequently Asked Questions

How do I use this character sheet?

Simply mark each circle each time you play for one hour in a game! It's that simple!

You can even use stickers or stamps if you want! Make that logsheet pop!

Where do I write the gold I find during my adventures?

The best part about this new log sheet is you don't have to! Heroes do what they do out of the goodness of their heart, not for money!

But my character is Lawful Evil/an urchin/just plain greedy! Why can't I find gold?!

Even bad people can be heroes!

What about magic items from an adventure? Can we take those?

We want to make sure every hero is just as good a hero as anyone else! By using Treasure Points, everyone can have the same magic items!

Cool! So everyone can get the Icon of Ravenloft?

Unfortunately we have deemed some items from hardcovers to be problematic. Don't fret, though!

If there's an item that's required for the hardcover you're playing, it's a story award now!

You don't get to keep it, but it's still there!

So, I can't get gold or magic items immediately when I find them? What's the point of adventuring?

For the story, of course!

I mean, what's the motivation for my characters? They're risking their lives for so little gold.

We don't want to hamper your creativity with your characters, so feel free to come up with the reason!

A character who's entire life revolves around treasure is pretty boring, isn't it?

My character died and I don't have enough gold! What do I do?!

Don't fret! You can spend yourself into Treasure Checkpoint debt in order to get a scroll to resurrect you!

Once you pay off that debt, you can then use future Treasure Checkpoints for magic items!

What's this I hear about factions?

It's great! Any character can be part of any faction now! All you need to do is give up your current background feature and take the Safe Haven background feature instead!

What about alignment? Can I play a Lawful Evil character?

As long as that character is part of the Lords' Alliance or the Zhentarim, sure!

But I want my Lawful Evil character to be a noble with a Position of Privilege...

You can still use the proficiencies and equipment from the Noble background! That's just as good, right?

How do I buy Magic Items?

It's simple, really! If you have access to a magic item, you just need to find what magic item table it's on in the DMG or find it in the ALCC. If it's in the ALCC, the cost will be right next to it! Otherwise, look in the ALPG to find the table you found the item on, and that table's treasure point cost. Finally, just look to see if you have enough treasure points of that tier or higher. If you do, you can buy it!

I have a suggestion/complaint.

We would love to hear from you! You can find us on most social media platforms, and we are always willing to listen to feedback! If we like your comment, there's a chance we will make a change!

We'll even make changes you don't know you want yet! Like trades being restricted to Magic Item tables!
